An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mr. John McGonagle on February 7, 2005.

The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 1, line 8, after "treatment means", -- providing nitrification -- has been inserted.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The recitation of a septic tank of the structure recited with a discharge to a secondary treatment system which recycles back to the rear of the septic tank, wherein a denitrification media of a plurality of synthetic cords having a specific gravity less than that of the effluent is attached to the bottom of the septic tank patentably distinguishes over the prior art of record.

The closest prior art, Coulthard, discloses a media of synthetic cords floating in the liquid to be treated, but the device is an anaerobic digester of different structure than that of the septic tank recited in the instant claims, the cords are attached to a liquid distributor, and the device does not discharge to a secondary (biological) treatment system with recycle, but rather only to a separating collector.

Serfling also discloses a media of floating synthetic cords, but these are in an aerated pond with floating aquatic plants, not in a septic tank of the structure claimed. Serfling also does not disclose discharge to a secondary treatment system with recycle.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
